

Venture Capital Investment Consulting for the Medical Industry

The medical device industry is one consistently bright spot in the US economy, accounting for sales of approximately 78 billion dollars a year and growing. As a result, medical device manufacturers attract a large share of investment dollars. Investing wisely, however, takes considerable knowledge and experience – the kind found at Boston Biomedical Associates.

Not just knowledge. Know-how.

At BBA, you'll find the kind of clinical and regulatory experience and expertise that can only come from years spent in both the medical device industry and on the hospital frontline. We can help you, as an investor, minimize risk and make informed decisions about potential investments --

- raise red flags when product development and delivery goals are unrealistic....
- evaluate proposed budgets for the device approval process....
- even evaluate the efficacy of a new device

We offer a wide range of services to the venture capital industry, including:

- Technology and product evaluations
- Regulatory and clinical timeline and milestone evaluations
- Facilitation of due diligence activities
- Budget assessments
- Strategic rescue
- Personnel requirement recommendations
- FDA approval process consultation and management
- Rapid response audits

Let our experienced, expert staff guide you through the assessment of new medical technology before you invest— to help insure your investment is a wise one.
